

The Exploration of Factors Cultivating Health Science Degree Completion For Latino/as

Volunteers Needed for a Research Study

Title: The Exploration of Factors of Cultivating Health Science Degree Completion For Latino/as

You may qualify if you:

1. Identify as Latino, Hispanic, Chicano/a, Mexican-American, Puerto Rican, or any other roots that link them to Latin-American or Mestizo descent.
2. Current students in health science, allied health, or nursing associate or certificate programs
3. Enrolled between 2018-2020

Participant Incentives: $45 gift card

Participation Involves: A one-on-one face-to-face interview or by video conference for about 90 minutes.

Potential Benefits: As a result of your participation you will provide vital research to inform students, community college leaders at Hispanic-Serving Institutions about Latino student's academic experiences while enrolled in health-related programs on how to cultivate increased access, equity, and inclusion of Latino students in health science two-year associate degrees or certificates.

For More Information contact:

Norma Guzman Duran via email at
Norma.Guzman.Duran@gmail.com
832-610-0293